PRESS RELEASE

IMI forges partnership with Macnica Europe

May 11, 2016, Laguna, Philippines — Integrated Micro-Electronics Inc. (IMI), one of the leading worldwide providers of electronics manufacturing services (EMS), announced that it has forged a value added reseller partnership with Macnica Europe GmbH, a provider of technical services and high-value products that include semiconductor components, electronic devices, network equipment, and software to electronic manufacturers.

With this agreement, IMI is able to improve its customer base for its camera platforms, especially for the European electronics manufacturers in the industrial, automotive, and other key markets.

IMI camera platform is a design platform which can be customized for various automotive applications, such as for advance driver assistance system (ADAS) and park assist system. IMI is currently collaborating with various tier 1 suppliers and system developers in developing their automotive cameras for ADAS.

The deal bolsters Macnica Europe's portfolio of technical services and electronic products for the industrial and automotive sectors.
