IMI Completes Acquisition of PSi

October 7, 2010, Laguna, Philippines - Integrated Micro-Electronics, Inc. (IMI), a leading electronics manufacturing services (EMS) provider to the world's key original equipment manufacturers (OEMs) and a member of the Ayala group, announced today that it completed the acquisition of a majority stake in PSi Technologies Inc. (PSi).

IMI bought 56 percent of PSi, an independent semiconductor assembly and test services (SATS) provider.

Arthur Tan, IMI president and chief executive officer, said, "The acquisition of PSi gives us a foothold in the growing convergence of power semiconductor assembly and test services and EMS."

Tan added, "With a complementary capability to change the process of how a power semiconductor is built, we can now offer OEMs an optimized power solution in a multichip module (MCM) that combines the manufacturing expertise of IMI and PSi. We enhance our solution offering to our existing customers and serve emerging markets like electric vehicle, smart power, and smart sensor technologies."

The MCM technology addresses the trend in miniaturization of electronic devices.

About IMI

Integrated Micro-Electronics Inc. (IMI) is a vertically integrated electronics manufacturing services (EMS) provider to leading global original equipment manufacturers (OEMs) in diversified markets that include those in the automotive, industrial, medical, solar energy, telecommunications infrastructure, storage device, and consumer electronics industries. Committed to cost-effective and top-quality customized solutions, IMI's comprehensive EMS capabilities, broad geographic reach, and strong Asian manufacturing presence allow it to take on specific outsourcing needs. IMI's flexible solutions encompass design and product development, manufacturing, and order fulfilment. IMI is consistently ranked among the top 30 EMS providers in the world.
